ABOUT JODY HALSTED

A frequent visitor to Ireland for over 15 years, Jody's affair with Eire did not dissipate upon the birth of two children. If anything, traveling in Ireland with family has only deepened Jody's love of the country – and her desire to share the magic of Ireland with others.

Jody and her family – husband Doug, daughters Brenna (12) and Caelan (10) – explore popular tourist destinations and off-the-beaten-track locations to discover the people, places, and phenomena that make an Ireland family vacation truly magical.

“ Thank you to Jody Halsted of Ireland Family Vacations for helping to plan a most amazing family adventure to this magical and special land! Our first visit - just right and I could not have found the places where we stayed and the variety - all great and just right for our family. Much gratitude, and so glad to spend time in this blessed land - the land and the people ... amazing! ”

“

When Jody Halsted and her family came to visit us here in West Cork we really enjoyed her visit. She was here to learn as much as she possibly could about what our area has to offer. She took a lot of time and research to accomplish this and followed up with a good quality article about Top of the Rock on her website. She then managed to include us in an Irish Fireside blog, a finally got to do one hour on BLAB, which was a 'first time' for us. She has consistently followed this up on Twitter and Facebook, as well as reviewing us on various sites. All told, Jody has been very good to us. We would love to see her and the whole family again.

PARTNERSHIPS

Partner with us during our Ireland travel

At Ireland Family Vacations we believe that the only way to advise families on Ireland travel is to travel in Ireland. And that means getting off the 'tourist track' and into the heart of what makes Ireland unlike anyplace else.

We are currently accepting travel partners (B&Bs, self-catering, hotels, attractions, and dining establishments) for 2017 travel (dates and locations TBD).

Travel partners receive coverage from our many outlets – including the website, podcast, Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and Pinterest. I am also very active in TripAdvisor Forums.

TRAVELING IN IRELAND PODCAST
